

MARK R. TERCEK

Mark Tercek was appointed President and CEO of The Nature Conservancy in July 2008. Previously, he was a managing director at Goldman Sachs, where he headed the firm's Center for Environmental Markets and its Environmental Strategy Group. While with the firm, Mr. Tercek played a major role in designing and implementing their environmental strategy. In prior positions, he headed various business units there including Corporate Finance, Equity Capital Markets, Consumer/Healthcare, and Leadership Development. Mr. Tercek joined Goldman Sachs in 1984 and was named a partner in 1996.

Mr. Tercek is a member of the Council on Foreign Relations and the Board of Directors of Resources for the Future. He is also President of the Board of Trustees of Western Reserve Academy, a boarding preparatory school in Hudson, Ohio. He is an adjunct professor of finance at New York University's Stern School of Business.

Mr. Tercek earned an MBA with distinction from the Harvard Business School in 1984 and a BA with honors from Williams College in 1979.